Board OKs Canada study

Canada de la Secunda route on Road Dept. budget

Bruce McClain, County Road Commissioner, has included $15,000 in his 1966-67 budget for a preliminary engineering study on the Canada de la Segunda connecting road from Carmel Valley to Canyon del Rey, coming out near Villa Caruse Restaurant on the Monterey Salinas Highway (route 68).

The matter of establishing a county policy on some 46 roads which have been proposed or are not now a part of the county road system has been on the Board of Supervisors agendas off and on since February. McClain told the Outlook that he decided instead of wrestling with county policy he would forget that and concentrate on the two roads which have been uppermost in the discussions. These are the Canada de la Segunda Road linking Carmel Valley Road and the Salinas Highway, and Maher Road in the northern part of the county. Maher Road leads to a proposed regional park off San Miguel Canyon Road.

The road department budget, on yesterday's agenda for the Board of Supervisors meeting, was scheduled after the Outlook deadline. McClain said Tuesday morning that he couldn't predict what the reaction of the board members would be, but they had been informed of his requests by letter prior to the meeting so that it would be no suprise at 2 o'clock when the matter came before them.

The Canada de la Segunda Road has been in the picture since 1953. It is included in both the Carmel Valley Master Plan and the Monterey Peninsula Area Plan. At various times during the Valley road battles, opponents of the four lane road have suggested that it would alleviate the traffic problem sufficinetly to eliminate the need of the wider main road. McClain does not agree with this premise, but he does feel it would help funnel off some of the traffic to Monterey, Seaside, Marina and beyond.

The northern end of the road near the Salinas Highway passes through the Work Ranch which was recently purchased by Utah Construction Corporation. McClain's proposal for as engineering study includes the corporation as a joint partner in the preliminary work.

Appeal denied

The Board of Supervisors denied the appeal of the American Lutheran Church on their use permit.

Hudson, Church and Foley voted denial of the appeal with Atteridge and Anderson in favor.

Beautification Forum urges Peninsula action

A wide variety of participants gathered last Saturday in the scenic setting of Del Monte Forest to discuss beauty on the Monterey Peninsula. The forum was sponsored by the Monterey Council for Conservation and Planning (MCCCP) and was chaired by its president Dudley Swim. Swim opened the meeting with a report on the Governor's Conference on Beauty held recently in Los Angeles. He said that in our area we have three major problems in maintaining the natural beauty. These are 1) tax assesments, 2) county and state road departments and 3) bureaucracy. The MCCCP proposes to become a community foundation type of organization, according to Swim. With his own property he proposes a 25 acre minimum density by deed restriction.

Keynote speaker of the afternoon was Allan Griffin who appeared to be discouraged about the possibility of saving the area's natural beauty. He cited the monstrous freeway which is being pushed down our throats whether we want it or not. Coining a word, "prettification," Griffin used it to describe Carmel which has hidden substandard building and planning behind planting and an abundance of natural foliage.

Ed Hogan, of Hidden Hills, suggested seeding acreage with wild flower seeds with cooperation of CV Flying Club and their plane.

Caseys give land for Valley Little League field

Agreement has been reached between Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Casey and the Carmel Valley Little League for use of approximately three acres of the old Girl Scout property on Paso Hondo Road for a new LL playing field.

The Caseys who purchased the Girl Scout property will lease the 300 by 400 foot parcel to the Little League for only $10 per year with an option to renew. According to Roger Sherman, manager of the Giants, the unofficial chief LL architect, the field will be open for the kids to play baseball anytime, but fencing is necessary to keep trespassers and picnickers off the property.

The Little Leaguers, excited and grateful for the Casey's generous offer, plan to begin construction within a few weeks when the summer play-is over. Granite Construction Company will clear and grade the land, after the stumps are removed by local volunteer help. The plans call for the bleachers, snack bar, underground watering system and restrooms.

In order to have a well established lawn for the playing fields (there will be a smaller farm team field in addition to the standard field), the grass must be in for about 6 months before practices can begin.

The recent Little League Barbecue netted about $500 for Little League, which will be applied to the expenses incurred in construction of the new field. Roger Sherman and Ken Van Hagen told the Outlook that the Valley Little League is one of the few teams in this area which is running in the black with no outstanding bills against them.

ROGER SHERMAN (center) has drawn the plans for the new Little League Park on Paso Hondo Road. Blueprints locate a farm team playing-field east of the major field which sports a bleacher holding approximately 300 spectators. Roger and Ken Van Hagen (right) did some on-the-spot pacing after word was received of the agreement made with the Caseys for the use of the land. Steve Van Hagen (on bike) a member of the Giants team and Matt Sherman, on the farm team, voiced their approvals of the new field while Timmy Sherman climbed up top for a better look.

Carmel's first play at Forest Theatre

The first play to be written and published in Carmel will be presented by the CUSD Recreation Department as co-sponsors with the Carmel Arts Commission. "Mr. Bunt," a fairy story, was written by Carmelite Ira Mallory Remsen in 1924.

Tryouts will be held on Monday, June 27, at the Forest Theatre in Carmel at 1 p.m. There are some adult parts and spots for a number of children.

Gail Dowling, who directed last year's Recreation Department play will work with co-director Cole Weston.

Those participating in the production will meet at the theatre from 1 to 4 daily for rehearsals. The play will be presented on August 12 and 13.

Middle School girls complete charm course, elect "best girl"

CATHY COX (seated) won the coveted "best all around girl" award at the completion of work in the seventh and eighth grade "Get Smart Club," a voluntary class in good grooming, manners and other desirable qualities which are a part of young ladies. In the background are Miss Christine Christy and Miss Jo Brazell, teacher-sponsor of the class. A number of the seventh and eight graders received gifts in recognition of their work and improvement during the year. (left to right) Cathy Angier, Jan Jaseau, Meredith Sinclair, Bonnie Hendrix, Schatzi Kuzmich, Pam Stewart and Joan Smith.

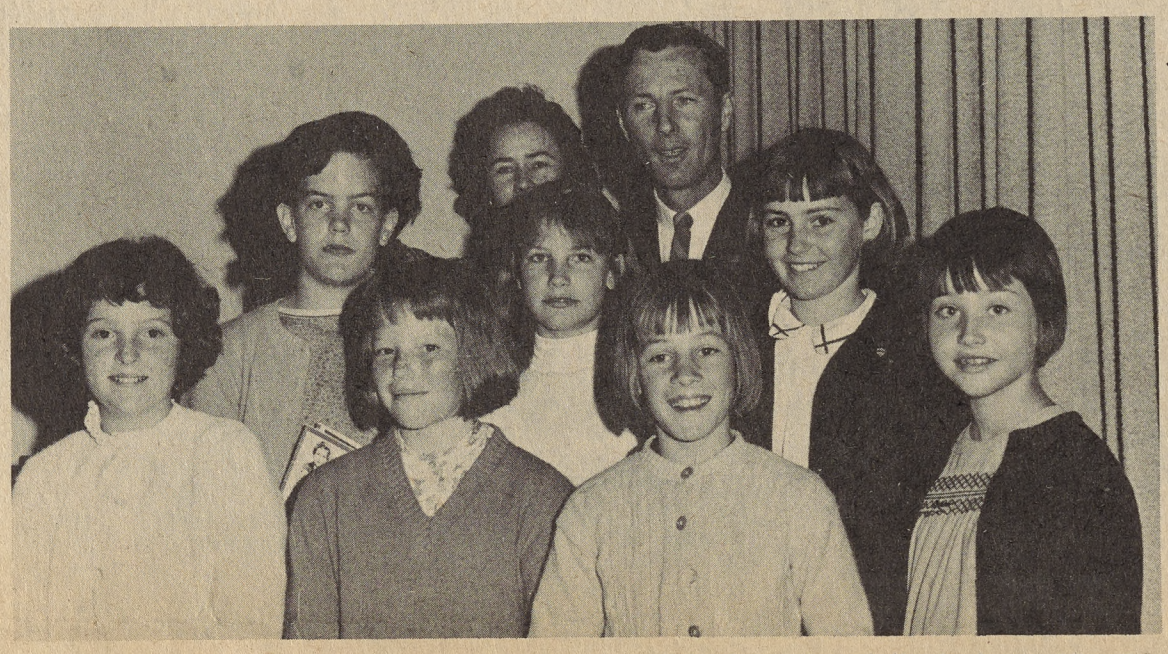

Just before the end of the semester at Middle School a number of young ladies were thrilled to receive recognition for their participation in an extra-curricular class on good grooming. There are two such groups at the Middle School, one made up of fifth and sixth graders, and the other consisting of seventh and eighth graders.

Originally the idea was started by Miss Jo Brazell, English and reading teacher, at Sunset School three years ago for girls in the sixth grade, to help prepare them for that big step into junior high.

This year Miss Brazell was assisted by Miss Christine Christy, math teacher, and over 75% of the girls in grades five through eight are involved in the noon hour class. The group met about once a week for instruction in good grooming, posture, clothing, make up, manners, etc.

At the end of the year's work, the girls are given awards for those who show the most improvement during the year and a grand award is given to the "best all around girl." This year's recipient of that trophy was eighth grader Cathy Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Cox of Carmel Knolls.

Merchants from throughout the Peninsula area donated prize gifts to the girls which were presented at the end of school.

Look to your own front yard

With the tremendous accent on nationwide, statewide, and countywide beautification programs, we come right down to beer cans on the Valley Road, litter along Country Club Drive bulldozers digging out pads on hills above our heads.

It makes little difference how loud and long the conservationists speak of preserving our natural beauty if no one really relates it to himself at the individual level. Too often we are creatures of habit or thoughtlessness and idealism is just great to read about and then we forget the whole idea.

There are increasing numbers of organizations, and indivuals who are aware of the immediate need of conserving what scenic advantages we have left and relating further development to beauty rather than bounty. But the most magnicifent of mountains or the most attractively designed home becomes a dump when beer cans and garbage are deposited nearby.

The little property owner may not be able to do grandiose gestures of dedicating scenic easements but he can certainly help to make his own plot or road attractive to the eye, with a little care and thought.

Long-time dream comes true for Lori Swiess

Strange and startling are some of the questions fired at Carmel Valley Chamber of Commerce in letters answered by Secretary Lory Swiess.

Petite, blonde Lory is a busy lady, handling Chamber business with one hand and running her attractive Sugar 'N Spice children's apparel shop with the other.

There was the letter from an Easterner who wanted the humidity hour-by-hour during the day for various times during the year. "He had asthma, and was looking for the healthiest place to move to," Lory explained.

The letters which come closest to ruffling her usually calm and collected poise are several she has received from over-eager students. "These students ask for information for a term paper, which is great," she said, "but they request that it be written up and typed neatly so they can turn it in as part of their work."

LORI SWIESS

OPENED STORE IN '63

Lory has been secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce since 1961. She and Irene Garner, her former partner, opened the store in 1963 across from the Texaco station.

They moved in 1964 into the present location, three shops down from the Carmel Valley Post Office, which was built to their specifications by Mrs. Marion Wilson, owner of White Oak property. The new and larger quarters permitted them to increase their merchandise stock. Lory assumed full ownership last March.

"Don and I had dreamed and planned for years of a shop that would appeal to the most discriminate buyer," Lory explained. "Carpeting, chandeliers and the works -- and yet be a moderate-price, quality shop for people like ourselves in an average income group.

"The advantage I and other local merchants have over distant stores is knowing what the local people want," she pointed out, "and buying is done more selectively for them."

What do Valleyites want?

"They want good quality at moderate price," Lory declared. "We know costs, having four children of our own, and are conscious of quality and price."

It's a family operation now. Lory's mother, Mrs. Mary Johnson from River Forest, Ill., helps out in the store, and husband Don does the window displays in his spare time.

HUSBAND TEACHER

He's a math teacher at Fitch Junior High, which is on Fort Ord property and is run by the Monterey school system. He has his master's degree from Loyola University in Chicago and considerable additional credits towards a PhD.

The Swiess's are from the Mid-West; she was raised in the Chicago area and Don in Ohio, until he moved to Lory's home-town for high school. They met at the junior-senior prom.

In the Army, he was attached to the U.S. Air Force in transportation personnel. They went overseas in 1956 and enjoyed a year in Germany, living in the house of the late captain of the first zeplin in the town of Zeppleheim, south, Frankfurt AM Maine.

Following the service, they lived in Skokie, Ill.

URGE TO GO WEST

But because he had lived very briefly in California when a boy, Don had been innoculated with the urge to Go West.

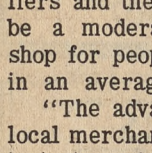

So they sent a barrage of letters to 45 different California school districts. "Forty three of the districts offered Don a job," Lory recalled.

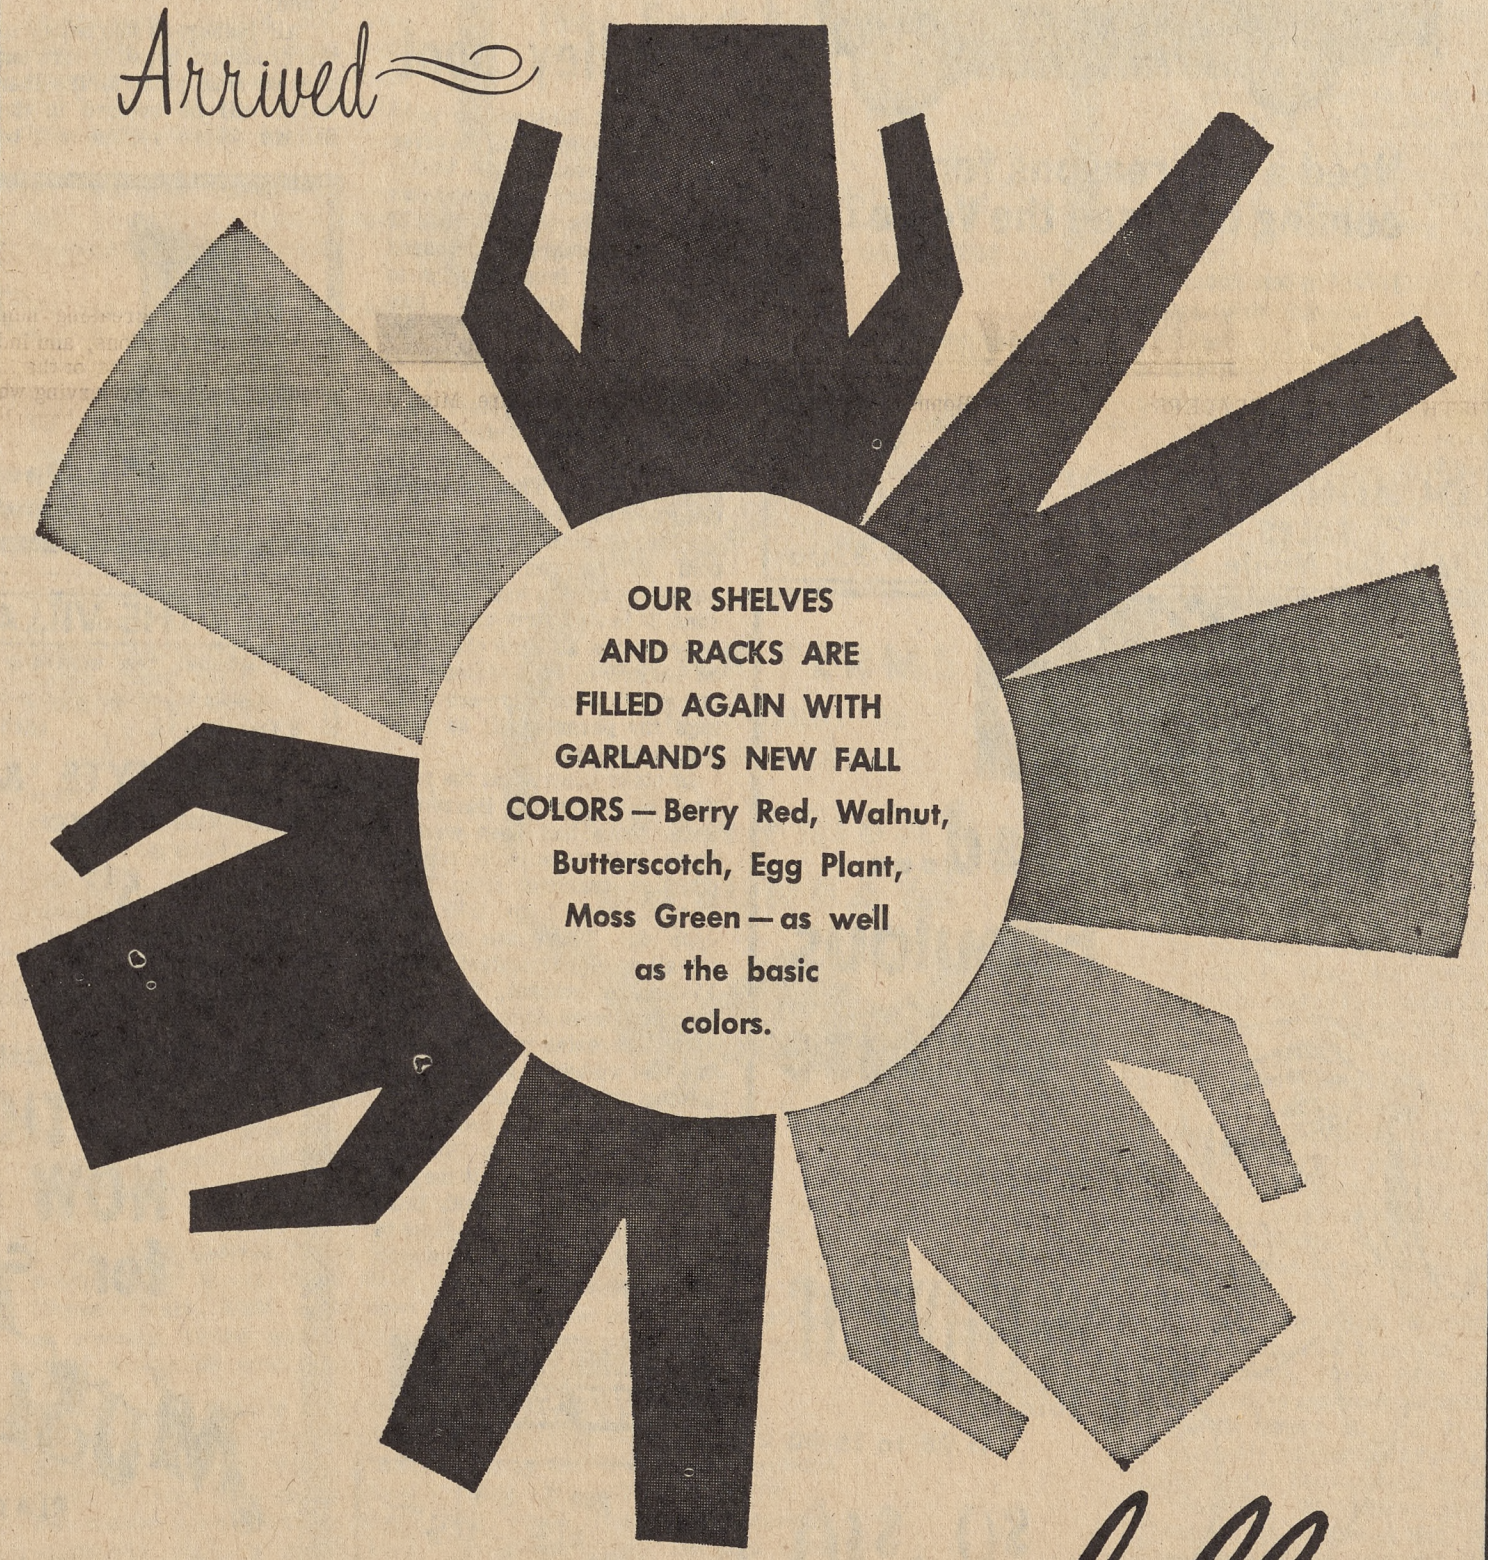

Having the pick of California, they chose the Monterey Peninsula.

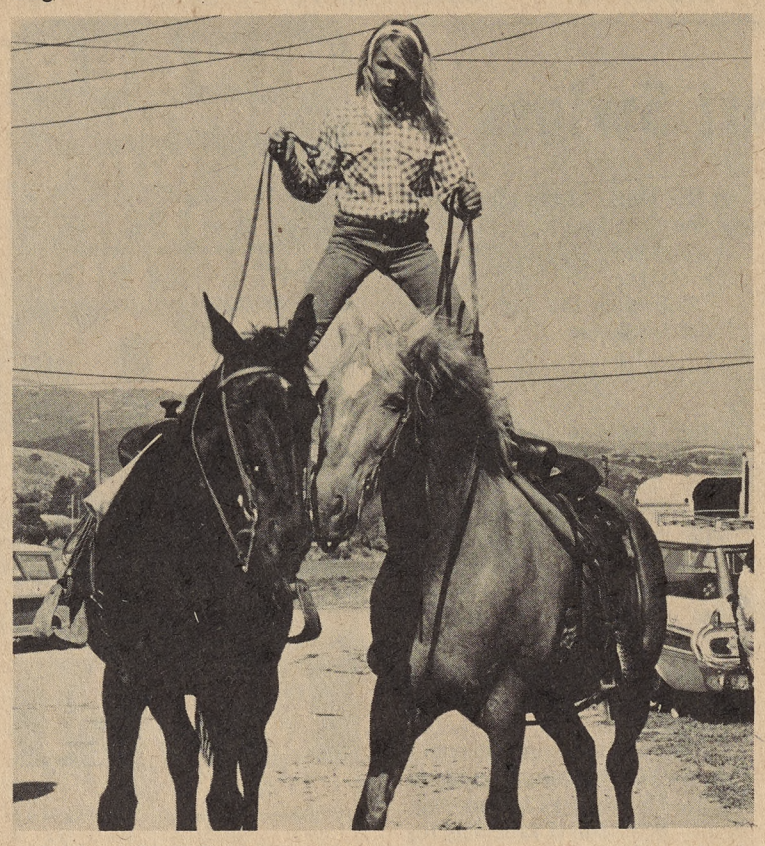

The four young members of the Swiess household include Sandy, 12, who will be entering Middle School next fall; Sherie, 9, who will be a 5th grader at Tularcitos; Scott, 7, a second grader in the fall, and Shawn, 5, who will matriculate in kindergarden, come September.

30 compete in Carmelo 4-H horse show

The Light Horse Troop of the Carmelo 4-H staged its first open competition and play day at Marge Ingram's grounds on Meadows Road on Sunday.

Thirty riders from Carmel, Carmel Valley and Monterey participated in the show. The work of programming was done by members of the Light Horse Group whose leaders are Mrs. J. Fairchild and Salley Trivitte.

High point honors in the 13 years and over group were won by Peggy O'Reilly with Sharman Hunton winning in the 12 and under classification. There were six events for each of the two age groups plus a competitive inspection.

Sharman, a granddaughter of Lyn Hodges, arrived just hours before the show started, from Arizona.

Judges for this competition were Mrs. Robert Gilchrist and Orley White.

Pre-schooler swim classes at Valley pool

Swimming classes for preschool youngsters will be given again this year at the Valley pool, Ken White announced this week. Limited to little ones of 4, 5, and 6 years, the classes will be given from 12 noon to 12:30 for five days. Then a new group will be accepted for teaching. If the instructors, Barb Murphy and Bob DeWeese feel that the youngsters have progressed sufficiently, they will be put into a regular beginners class. This is something new this year.

Parents must come to the pool to register their preschoolers for the half hour lessons. It is on a first come first serve basis as each class will be limited to five students for one week. When there are openings the parents will be notified in advance.

In other news about the pool, Ken said that the Barracuda Swim team had been working since last week with regular practice sessions from 12 to 1 p.m. and 4 to 5:30 p.m. each day. There are openings for all ages, particularly in the 15-18 age bracket. The team also is in need of any age youngsters interested in diving. Anyone who wishes to find out about joining the team may contact Mike Largent at the pool.

The Cypress Swim Club has also been rehearsing in the pool at 5:30 each day. Coach Donn Squire is there at that time to answer inquiries about the synchronized swim group.

CARMEL VALLEY YOUTH ORGANIZATION

The Carmel Valley Youth Organization netted $88.66 from their rummage sale held last Friday at the Community Center. The young people are grateful for the many items donated for the benefit and thank everyone who came to look and buy.

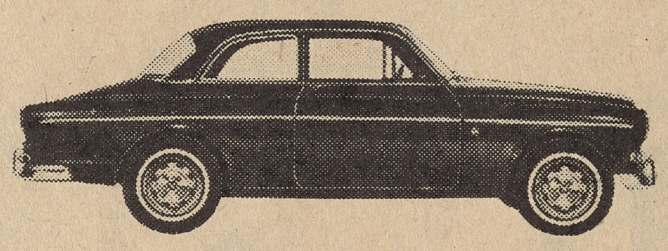

The balance of merchandise left after the sale was over, was donated by the CVYO to MPVS for their Thrift Shop in Seaside.

A very important general membership meeting of all CVYO members will be held at 7:30 on July 2 at the Community Center.

All teenagers who belong to the group are urged to turn out because final plans for the float which will be entered in the Salinas Rodeo Parade will be completed. The float will carry the winner of the Miss Carmel Valley contest which is currently being conducted by the Village Committee. Excellent monetary awards are given to the winning floats in different categories, so the group needs the support of all its members on this project.

Another important matter on the agenda meeting is further planning of the "Street Fair," the summer benefit which the CVYO is sponsoring on July 16.

Saturday night, June 25, the CVYO is sponsoring the movie, "The Fall of the House of Usher." The film will be shown at 8 p.m. with admission of 50¢ for Youth Organization members and $1 for others.

Cmdr. Stowers retires from active duty

Commander W. C. Stowers, (known as Bill to his Valley friends) will retire from the Navy on June 30 after 32 years of active duty. He will be retired as Assistant Officer in Charge of the Naval Auxiliary Landing Field by Commander M. L. Chapman.

CMDR. BILL STOWERS

Bill and his wife Ruth have lived on the Peninsula at various times and places for about seven years. They began construction on their home on Country Club Drive in October of 1962 and moved in the following February.

1934 was the year Bill began his naval career as an apprentice seaman, and he acquired his present rank of Commander in 1955. After a number of operational tours in aviation squadrons aboard the USS Langley, Saratoga, Lexington and Ranger, he was selected in 1942 for Navy flight training at New Orleans and Pensacola. After he completed this tour he was assigned as an advanced flight training instructor at the Naval Air Station at Jacksonville, Florida.

Bill is a graduate of the General Line School at the Naval Post Graduate School in Monterey and was also officer in charge of the Air Intercept Training Facility at Point Pinos.

There a number of historic occasions in which Bill played a part in connection with his various assignments. In 1938 he was aboard the original USS Lexington when they participated in search for Amelia Earhart. He and Ruth and their son, Richard, were in Pearl Harbor at the time of the attack.

During World War II, he took part in the battles of Pearl Harbor, Midway and the Wake Island rescue efforts. While on the staff of Commander, Carrier Division Seven, in 1958-59, he participated in the Quemoy and Matsu crisis.

The Stowers plan on making their permanent home here in the Valley. Their older son, Richard, is married and lives in Pacific Grove, and Bill Jr. is currently touring the nation with the Moral Rearmament group, "Sing Out '66." Bill Jr. interrupted his studies at MPC last March to leave with the Sing Out, but plans to return to school in the fall.

Among his other local activities, Bill Sr. is the newly installed president of the Carmel Valley Lions Club. Ruth just stepped down from her position as president of the Lionettes, auxiliary to the Lions.

Commander Stowers will be honored with ceremonies at the Naval Air Field, followed by a reception at the Officers Mess, on the day of his retirement.

"You'll just drink it up—which is probably what I should have done."

Lions & Lionettes install officers

New officers for the Carmel Valley Lions and Lionettes were installed Saturday, June 11, in a dinner at the Mission Ranch in Carmel. Eighty-nine people attended, including several Lion dignataries and members of the Carmel Lions Club.

William Stowers will be the new president of the Carmel Valley Lions and Frances Gansel will head the Lionettes. Other Lion officers include: Carl Maiser, 1st Vice President; Lloyd Todd, 2nd Vice President; Richard McKenzie, 3rd Vice President; George Jennings, Secretary; Nick Skalyo, Treasurer; Tom Bordonaro, Lion Tamer; and Leroy Dufur, Tailtwister. The Board of Directors now includes Clyde Hitchcock, William McKenna, Charles Gansel, Jack Barnhart, Herman Tedrow, Hank Blatnik, and George Baker, Past President.

Other officers in the Lionettes are Ora Todd, Vice President; Rae Black, Secretary; Patty Blatnik, Treasurer, and Marie Tedrow, Tailtwister. The Board of Directors consists of Eileen Dufur, Marie Frumkin, Beth Hitchcock, Dorothy Feldman, and Mrs. Ruth Stowers, Past President.

Special awards were given at the installation dinner. Clyde Hitchcock was honored with the Lion of the Year Award and received a special plaque. John Koon, for his work as Program Director and Lion Tamer received special recognition as did Richard Gayman—Boys and Girls Committee; Lloyd Todd—Wine and Roses Ball; Carl Maiser—Historian; and William Stowers—Bulletin Editor.

The new officers for each club will officially take office July 1. The last remaining project for the 1965-66 officers will be a Barbecue and Carnival of Games (for children and adults), to be held Sunday, June 19, at the Carmel Valley Trail and Saddle Club Grounds, between 1 and 5 p.m.

At the last board meeting of the Carmel Valley Lions Club, held Tuesday, June 5, $100 was given to the Monterey Peninsula YMCA and $100 was given to Moral Re-Armament Sing-Out Monterey to defray the cost of sending any of the Carmel Valley students in the group to the forthcoming conference at Estes Park, Colorado.

Mrs. John Lake heads Co-op Nursery Group

The June business meeting of the Carmel Valley Cooperative Nursery School was held at the West Carmel Valley Road home of Mrs. Calvin Garner. Mrs. Richard Kern served as co-hostess. Members heard an evaluation of the school year and elected officers. Mrs. John Lake will be president of the group when it begins in the Fall. Mrs. Stan Cloud will serve as vice president, Mrs. Henry Blatnik as secretary, and Mrs. David Erskine as treasurer.

MRS. HENRY HUNTINGTON (left) and Mrs. Ralph Thompson were among the members of the All Saint's School Mothers Club who planned the benefit. They had handsome programs of "The Agony and the Ecstacy" with color reproductions of the Sistine Chapel paintings for sale at the door to the theatre.

All Saints' benefit party nets $2500

The All Saint's benefit theatre party last week was a spectacular sell-out success with over 400 tickets being sold.

Mrs. Jack Stein, ticket chairman, reported that the party netted approximately $2,500 for the building fund to construct a multi-use room and chapel at the Carmel Valley Day School.

After viewing the premiere performance of "The Agony and the Ecstacy," the guests strolled down Dolores Street in the "mist" (we won't call it rain) for a champagne reception, in the gardens and patio of All Saint's Church.

Outlook On Carmel

Arts Commission sponsors programs

Opening the series of Forest Theatre Sunday afternoon programs will be the Allegro Concert Ensemble at 2 pm, Sunday, June 26. The Ensemble, directed by H. M. M. Nicholas, violinist, will feature Norma Jean Hodges, soprano. A portion of the program will be dedicated to the late Miss Mary Linsay-Oliver, teacher, music critic, and pianist.

The Ensemble includes well-known artists such as Camille Olaeta, piano, Frederick Schaad, organ, Louise Vadetsky, cello, H. M. M. Nicholas and Muriel Brady, violins.

The weekly series, which is presented free to the public by the Carmel Arts Commission in Carmel's historic outdoor Forest Theater, will feature in the following week, July 3, a variety program, featuring William (Bill) Taylor, Los Angeles magician, who will perform feats never before attempted on an outdoor stage. The program will also include dances by Renee Wurzmann of Carmel, and by members of the Ivanovsky Ballet Company.

On July 10th, the Beyer String Trio, with guest artists, will be presented in the first of several chamber music concerts. The Trio, formerly a quartette active in the San Francisco Bay Area, was reorganized here last year in time for the 1965 Summer Series. Members of the Trio are Helen Beyer, violinist, Erwin Gordon, violinist, and Elaine Beyer, cellist.

Also scheduled for later programs are a Square Dance Festival, the Monterey Peninsula College Brass Ensemble under the direction of Henry Smith, a community sing, the Salinas Valley Highland Pipers, and a musical group from the San Francisco Conservatory of Music under the leadership of Mary DeNeale Morgan. Other events will be announced at a later date.

Scheduled for August 12 and 13 is "Mr. Bunt", a children's play to be presented jointly by the Carmel Arts Commission and the Carmel Unified School District Recreation Program. "Mr. Bunt", by a Carmel writer, the late Ira Remson, was the first book to be printed in Carmel, and has been performed in the Forest Theater a number of times since its premiere.

'Fantasticks' opens at Studio Theatre-Restaurant July 1

"The Fantasticks" will open the ninth summer season at the Studio Theatre & Restaurant in Carmel on July 1. "The Fantasticks" has been produced by more than 400 theatre groups in more than 30 countries. If, as seems likely, it lasts two more years in New York, it will surpass "Life With Father" as long-run champion.

"The Fantasticks" was written by Tom Jones and composed by Harvey L. Schmidt who later collaborated on "110 In The Shade."

The authors credit the plot to Rostand's "Les Romanesques," but its more remote ancestry is the Pyramus and Thisbe play-within-a-play of "A Midsummer - Night's Dream." With a few exceptions like "Finian's Rainbow" and "Brigadoon," whimsy has not proved a durable commodity in musical theatre, but the whimsy of "The Fantasticks" strikes basic truths with which audiences identify.

Directed by Michael Keller, the Studio Theatre production will run from July 1 through July 10 and thereafter will alternate weekly with "The Pajama Game" which opens July 15. Shows are presented nightly at 8:30 except Monday. Reservations may be made for dinner and show or for the show or by calling 624-1661.

All Saints' Book Fair

The annual Book Fair will be held at All Saints' Church on Friday, July 8 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Items offered for sale, in addition to books, are sheet music, phonograph records, art and travel magazines, pictures and frames, prints, book ends and book cases. The snack bar will be open from 11 to 3.

Books and many of the other items are needed for the sale. These may be left at the parish hall of the church, or pickup may be arranged by calling 624-5507 or 375-7223.

Lyceum study for Music students

Gregory Sprung, John Morrice and Greg Stegeman have been selected from the Carmel Unified School District to attend the Lyceum summer music camp at Asilimar. Gregory and Greg are both students of the trumpet and John plays the violin.

Each students will receive a minium of four private lessons as well as being a part of the orchestra's workshop sessions. This advanced training is made possible by a $2,000 grant from the Monterey Jazz Festival.

The orchestra workshop sessions are under the leadership of Dr. Richard Lert, conductor of the Pasadena Symphony and Chorus.

under the oaks & among the cacti

By Mildred Hattan

A friendly custom that began several years ago in the Boronda and Garza Roads area occurred again last week at the Robert Bussinger home when Doreen issued invitations to a "Meet-Your-Neighbor-Koffee" New friendships were formed while neighbors enjoyed apple strudel, berry turnovers, and coffee.

Honored guests (residents who had not been formally welcomed before) were Mrs. Ernest Etherton, Mrs. Ethel Knops, Mrs. Kenneth Abernathy, Mrs. Howard K. Vail, Mrs. Darrell Jewett, Mrs. I.W. Cundiff, and Mrs. C.A. Savoldi. Mrs. Eldon Covell who will be moving soon from Monterey to her home on Boronda was also welcomed as a prospective neighbor. Others attending were, Mmes. Mrs. John Rushmer, Kirk Gayman, Fred Pomeroy Jr., Harwell Dyer, Edwin McGlochlin, Sted Wood, and J.R. Zoellin.

Mrs. Esther Trevino, who has visited for several months with her brother and wife, Dr. and Mrs. S.N. Trevino, and her two nieces, Mrs. Margaret Bennett and Mrs. A.A. Collins and their families, left this week for San Antonio, Texas. She will be the guest of an aunt and her cousins in that city. From Texas she will return to Mexico City which has been her home for the past two years.

Miss Trevino is looking forward to returning to her South-of-the-border home which holds many pleasant memories of research and studies at the University, a wide circle of friends, and the cool mountain climate.

June and Ken Van Hagen and children are established at last in their home on Paso Hondo, moving from quarters on Sage-Ford Road. Barbara and Kenneth Yeager, former owners of the Paso Hondo property, were transferred to San Leandro and have now returned to make their home in Pacific Grove.

Cmdr. and Mrs. William Stowers entertained week-end guests who arrived to share the festivities of Bill's installation as president of the Carmel Valley Lions Club and the tribute paid Ruth as she ended a successful year as president of the Carmel Valley Lionettes. Mr. and Mrs. William Beruck (Bill's cousin and husband from San Jose) and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parrett arrived from Mountain View. Bob Parrett is a Deputy District Governor and a member of the Los Altos Lions Club.

Don Wester of Country Club Way, who received serious injuries while racing recently in Florida, made his first return to the track last week in Stockton. In addition to an enthusiastic welcome from sports car fans, Don took the lead and turned in a win, one minute and fifteen seconds ahead of the other nine drivers who were competing.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ijams of Middle Canyon Road were on hand to celebrate the win and Maxine drove the "Victory Lap" with Don. Maxine who accompanies Bill, a member of the Wester pit crew, deserved some sort of trophy after skillfully preparing lunch on the track for twelve hungry souls who appeared at the Ijams camper!

Mrs. Caroline Fisher, with Betty White as her co-hostess, entertained the pupils from the Cooperative Nursery School last week at the Fisher ranch at Jamesburg. Mrs. Fisher whose unique ranch-home is joined by a stable to the home of her mother, Mrs. Louise Warner, showed the children her award winning horses which she trains. A pit was dug for a hot dog raost and the children enjoyed wading in the creek. Accompanying the youngsters were Florence Johnson, Patti Blatnik, Pat Erskine, Shirley Garner, Lois Menderson, LaVonne Kern, Caroline Winslow, Edwina Lake and Suzie Isaacs.

Fellow classmates of Gay Perez, a student at Carmel Middle School who underwent extensive back surgery during the year, learned how very much Gay and her parents had appreciated their thoughtfulness to her.

They attended a "two day party" during the final week of school.

Mr. and Mrs. Perez brought cake and punch for the presentation of awards for the most outstanding students in Mathematics during school hours the first day. Honor students were Gloria Franklin (who has moved to Florida), Jordan Bow, Glen Marrish,

Carmel Woman's Club installs new officers for coming year

The Carmel Woman's Club installed new officers for the year 1966-67 on Monday, June 6th. Taking office at the annual meeting were president, Miss Tess Sedweek; first vice-president and program chairman, Mrs. John R. Lynas; second vice-president and membership chairman Miss Dorothy X. Peacock; recording secretary, Mrs. Mary Thomas; treasurer, Mrs. N. Pearson; and corresponding secretary, Mrs. Edmund W. Murphy.

Also elected to the Board of Directors were Mrs. Blanche M. Mack, who will head the card section; Mrs. Clare Appleby, who will direct the book section and Mrs. D. Mac Kerr, who will have charge of the House and Garden section.

Mrs. Joseph S. Daly will serve the club as hospitality chairman; Major Frances Ewing as house chairman; Mrs. J. C. Hale as chairman of flower arrangement and Mrs. Raymond Mapstead as ways and means chairman. Publicity for the ensuing year will be in charge of Mrs. Allan Craig.

Named to the nominating committee for 1966-67 were Mrs. Conrad Imelman and Mrs. Alexander W. Cleary.

Life memberships in the club were awarded to Miss Mabel Stark and Mrs. Walter C. Adams.

Preceding the election of officers, club members enjoyed a pot-luck luncheon with the out-going board acting as hostesses. The report of the nominating committee: Miss Ianthe Densmore, chairman; Miss Marion Eley and Mrs. E. M. Porter, was presented by Miss Eley, and the slate of officers introduced.

Incoming president, Miss Sedweek, has acted as recording secretary of the club for the past two years, and has been a resident of the Peninsula since 1959. Holding a certificate in Engineering from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Miss Sedweek studied further at Columbia University in New York and has had an active career in her professional field. During the war years, she also taught planning classes at Vassar College. She acted as executive secretary of the Regional Planning Board of Western New York, and was a staff member of the New York Thruway Authority, in charge of facilities along the route of the thruway. Miss Sedweek also acted as president of the New York State Federation of Planning Boards—the only woman among the masculine members of the group.

'The Gazebo' at Circle Theatre

DICK BIRD AND PEGGY CHANDLER, cast in the roles of a TV writer and his actress spouse, settle a quarrel engendered by her purchase of a summer-house, the model of which has just arrived in this scene from "The Gazebo", Alec Coppel's mystery comedy now playing on weekend evenings at the Circle Theatre in Carmel. The Community Theatre production, staged by Norman McPhee, will run through July 23.

Taylor-Burton star in movie version of 'Virginia Woolf'

"Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" the controversial play by Edward Albee, has been filmed by Warner Brothers with Elizabeth Taylor in the role of Martha and Richard Burton playing George. The movie is probably destined to elicit a great deal of attention through its shock potential.

This film version is the first movie directed by Mike Nichols who worked with producer-writer, Ernest Lehman, who has kept the movie basically the same vehicle as the stage play, according to reports.

The four main characters in the show are participants in an exercise in torment. Miss Taylor and Mr. Burton in their roles of Martha and George, are the self-destructive omniverous campus couple who share a Walpurgis Night of fun and games with a young biology teacher and his wife, newly arrived at the New England college where George is in the history department.

George Segal plays Nick, the biologist who covers his hostility and ambitions with good manners and bland politeness.

Sandy Dennis plays Honey, his wife, a girl from the midwest, who is awkward, but amusing, and knows deep down that her husband probably doesn't like her very much.

Miss Taylor plays the character role as a sloppy, fading, voluptuous woman, frustrated, unhappy and vulgar. She and her busband work the gamut of trying to destroy eachother.

Mr. Burton has created the character of a faded be-spectacled man with a sharp tongue and a waspish humor, concealing feelings of a bruised masculinity.

"Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" opens at the Steinbeck Theatre on Cannery Row on Wednesday, June 29.

Baez to star

Folk Festival will be dedicated to Dick Farina

Joan Baez will be the star of the Sunday concert during the third annual weekend of folk music at Big Sur Hot Springs on July 9 and 10. This is Joan's only scheduled concert for the coming year and she will be singing many of the songs she has just recorded in folk-rock idiom.

Judy Collins, another top folk singer will sing duets with Mimi Farina, Joan's sister. Folk-rock musician Al Cooper will accompany Judy and Mimi. Nancy Carlen of Big Sur will act as M.C. and sing topical songs.

The Sunday concert will begin at 2:30 p.m. and will be held on the lawns of the Hot Springs Lodge, with the spectacular Big Sur Coast as a backdrop. The afternoon is dedicated to the hope for a peaceful world and to the memory of Richard Farnia, Mimi's husband, who was killed last month in an accident on the Valley Road. Many of the songs which will be sung were composed by him.

Saturday evening, the concert performers will meet at nine in the Hot Springs Lodge for a panel discussion entitled, "What's Happening, Baby?" This will be moderated by Ralph J. Gleason, jazz and folk critic for the San Francisco Chronicle. The panel will discuss folk-rock music and the direction it, and the performers, are taking.

Following the panel discussion there will be a midnight showing of "Festival '65", a film commissioned by last year's folk festival.

Tickets for the Sunday concert are $3 for adults and $1.25 for children from 4-12 years. They may be obtained at the Thunderbird Shop in Carmel Valley, California Music House in Carmel and at Abinante's in Monterey.

Rib-tickling film series starts Friday evening at MPC

"Thirty Years of fun," a well-edited collection of silent films, will open "Comic Nostalgia," Monterey Peninsula College summer film series, on Friday, June 24.

Accompanied by an analysis by Edward Norris, MPC English instructor, the collection will be shown in the MPC Music Hall twice, at 7 and 9 p. m.

Featuring Buster Keaton, Laurel and Hardy, Charlie Chaplin, Harry Langdon, Charlie Chase, Snub Pollard, Phyllis Haver, Vernon Dent and Andy Clyde in comedy excerpts, "Thirty Years" also contains newsclips from 1895 to 1925.

Amusing sound effects and an informative commentary add to the enjoyment. The film has been planned to delight students of the cinema as well as the general moviegoer.

Free tickets may be obtained at the college administraion building reception desk. Mail requests, accompanied by stamped, self-addressed evelopes, may be addressed to the Office of the Summer Session Dean, Monterey Peninsula College, 980 Fremont, Monterey. Ticket-holders will be seated first at each performance.

E SCENES AT WHITE OAKS THEATRE

as work day at White Oaks. Tracy Carr plays Nettie in the musical and her house with the ginger-bread trim was dreamed up by set designer Jack Simon.

Another summer musical season starts tomorrow at White Oaks Theatre with the opening of "Carousel."

The cast is made up of a combination of the winter company and the new summer training group which hails mainly from California and Louisiana, but also includes representatives from Texas, Pennsylvania and Montana among the 12 girls and 11 guys.

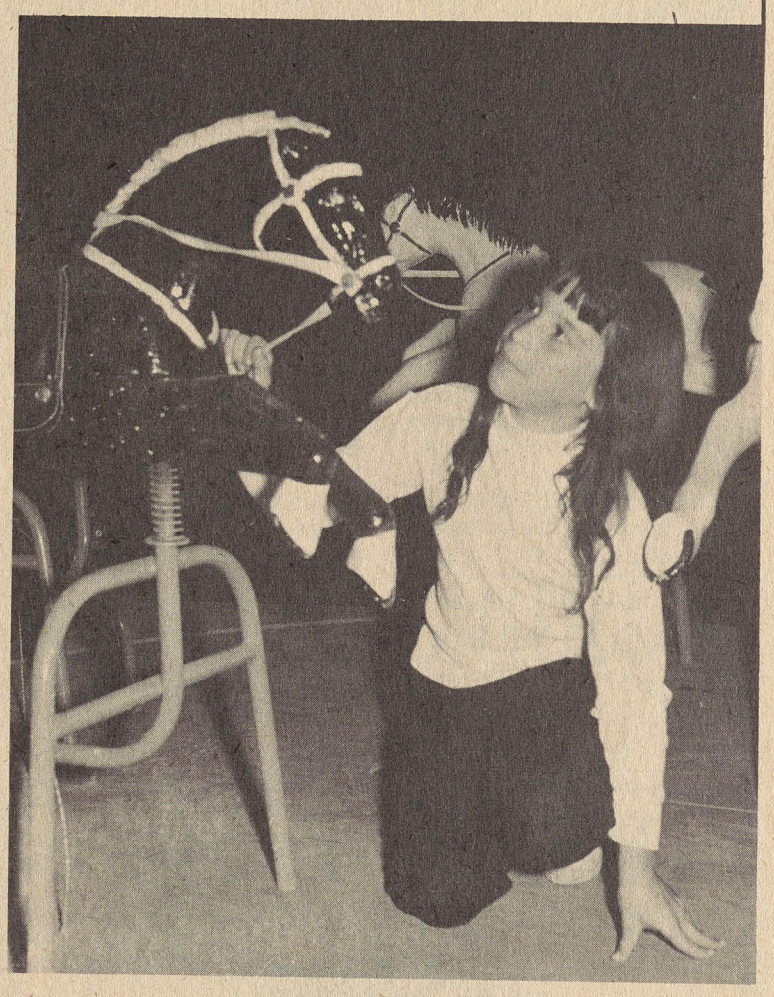

One reason why there are so many Louisiana students in the cast is the return of Chris Nance as musical director. Chris is assistant professor of opera at Louisiana State University, and a number of his students have been accepted into the summer company.

This year's schedule is an ambitious one and rehearsals have been running at a fever pitch. Activity begins about nine in the morning and the theatre glows with lights and working actors until at least eleven every evening.

On an afternoon when there was a chorus rehearsal we stopped by to watch director and choreographer Gale Peterson at work. There was a major rehearsal called for the evening hours so the leads, Sandra Lundwall (Julie Jordan) Michael Riordon (Billie Bigelow) were not around.

Other principal roles are being taken by Katie Russell (Carrie Pipperidge), a new trainee from Modesto Junior College, Ken Bachtold (Mr. Snow) and Michael Collins (Jigger) both of whom will be remembered from last summer's productions.

The hubbub of activity gains momentum as opening night draws near...the whirr of sewing machines, the bang of hammers and the thump of dancers feet...contrast to the silent meditation of some as they go over their lines.

ABOVE-Leslie, daughter of the Don Condrens of Country Club Drive, has the special treat of really riding the carousel horses in the opening musical.

BELOW-After pacing the routine with the chorus, Gale Peterson starts the tape and they work it out to music. Leslie Condren is a dancer in another sequence and sits off-stage watching until time to rehearse.

White Oaks Fantasy Players aid in Merced educational program

The Fantasy Players of White Oaks Theatre in Carmel Valley have been contracted by Merced County Schools for a pilot project aimed at using the performing arts as visual aids to education.

This children's theatre group recently performed its current production of "The Wonderment of Gleep" for school children in Le Grand, Pinada, and Merced City. It has returned this week to do five more days of touring shows in the Los Banos area, and will perform another fifty times in Merced County next winter.

The project, entitled "Widening Cultural Horizons Through the Performing Arts," is a direct result of Title III of the federal government's Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 which involved "the funding of innovative and exemplary education programs."

Mitchell stated, "Merced is a rural area and so far greatly limited in regard to cultural influences. Though we will be exposed to as many as twenty thousand students, individual audiences are wisely limited by the school district itself. As members of small viewing groups, students are allowed to get the most from the play—and to talk with the actors and director when the show is over."

Under the act, grants from the government are placed totally in the hands of the school districts involved. Many other performing arts organizations from throughout Northern California have been contracted by the Merced district for the program.

11 Peninsula youths plan YMCA high Sierra trip

Plans for the YMCA High Sierra Caravan have been completed by a special committee of 11 boys who have signed up for the trip. Riley Twohig, Mike Sprouse, David Lindsely, Lincoln and Mike Curtis, Randy Tunnill, Frank and Pat Balesteri, Ernie Riner, Cam Urnes and Robert Horn have been working with Doug Sprague, general secretary of the YMCA. They pored over maps and planned the routes and activities.

The boys will travel by special "Caravan" trucks, leave the Peninsula the afternoon of July 21 and go the Mariposa Grove that night. The next day they will cross Tioga Pass, and make camp at Horseshoe Lake, the uppermost of the Mammouth Lakes. The boys will spend three days in this area, swimming, fishing, and sightseeing at the Devil's Post Pile, Rainbow Falls, Convict Lake, Hot Creek, Glass Mountain and the June Lakes.

On Monday, they will visit Bodie Ghost Town, Leevining, Tuolume Meadows, and make camp on Upper Yosemite Creek.

On July 27, the boys will take a one night back-pack trip down Yosemite Creek, camping a short distance from the top of Yosemite Falls. They will watch the famous "Fire Fall" from that point.

Thursday they will hike down into the Valley and spend two day along the Merced River. They will return to the Peninsula on Saturday, July 30.

There is still room in the Caravan for boys from 13-15 years of age, who enjoy camping and adventure.

For information about any of the YMCA boy's camps, Y-Day Camp for 6-9 years olds, resident camp for 9-12 years olds or the High Sierra Caravan, call the Y office, 373-4166.

Elaine Bennett and Gay Perez. Teachers attending were Willie Bell Mason, John Waldron, Priscilla Nesbitt, Miss Duggan, Mr. Blakeman, and the principal, Mr. Rogers.

The next day, the group was invited to the Carmel Knolls home of Cassie Hawkins for a hot dog barbeque and swimming in her indoor pool. In addition to the award winning students, those attending were Florence Hoffman, Schatzie Kusnitch, Toni Henderson, Christine Brill, Julie Sabbara, Susan Dean, Jim Arn, Harry Goolding, Charles Schetter, Mark Cronader, Greg Granoff, and Muffet Wilsey.

Monthly Masterpoint Championship competitions was held Tuesday at the Community Center by members of the Valley Bridge Club. Mr. and Mrs. E.W. Gravelle won the covetted first place of the Duplicate Bridge Tournament. Mark Bader and Victor Rosen were winners of second place and third place award went to Mrs. M.L. Stoney and Fritz Greenwald.

A surprise birthday party at the Frank Bresk home on Country Club Drive honored the 11th birthday of Ann Erskine. Helena Bresk invited classmated to enjoy a hot dog luncheon before attending "Zebra in the Kitchen" at the Community Center. Sharing the beautiful cake with "Happy Birthday, Ann" written in pink frosting were; Molly O'Neal, Robin White, Heidi Hattan, Lisa Erskine and Lydia Bresk.

A patient in Ward C-7, Room 14 at Fort Ord Hospital has been the recipient of get-well wishes and hopes for a speedy return to duty from his many Valley friends since he was hospitalized last week. Sgt. Buck Wardle, a popular member of the Sheriff's Department, was returning to the Monterey Sub-station from a Valley patrol when strickened with what was thought to have been a heart attack.

Jean and Mark Thomas have returned to their Scarlet Road home after attending the 18th Western Regional Travel Conference of the American Society of Travel Agents in Guadalajara Mexico. The Valleyites were representing the Mark Thomas Inn in Monterey which hosted the ASTA convention when it was held last year on the Monterey Peninsula.

Carmel Middle School math and science students of Miss Linda Thompson may have a diffucult time next fall remembering to address her as MRS. Butler. Linda became the bride of Capt. Rudolph Butler in a May ceremony read in Harrisburg, Pa. Following a wedding trip to Washington D.C. and San Francisco, the newlyweds are at home in Monterey.

Mrs. Bobbie Sheppard of Paso Mediano planned a day at Big Sur to celebrate the ninth birthday of her daughter, Christie. A hot dog roast and a hike to the water falls highlighted the outing. Assisting with the arrangements and transportation for the thirteen guests and their seven younger brothers and sisters were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Nolan, Mr. and Mrs. George Shepard, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Platter, and Mr. John Klump. Christie's friends included Kim Mathews, Judy Platter, Linda Willson, Peggy Palmer, Diane Alvarado, Linda Tedrow, Kathy Platter, Cindy Shepard, Sherry Rhoades and Sue Pitcher.

Lt. Cmdr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Randell and five year old daughter Susan arrived last weekend to be the houseguests of Lr. Cmdr. and Mrs. Charles Klusmann. The Randalls, who are stationed at the Lemoore Naval Air Station, chose the heighth of the Valley's heat wave to come in search of cool weather to contrast with Lemoore's soaring temperatures!

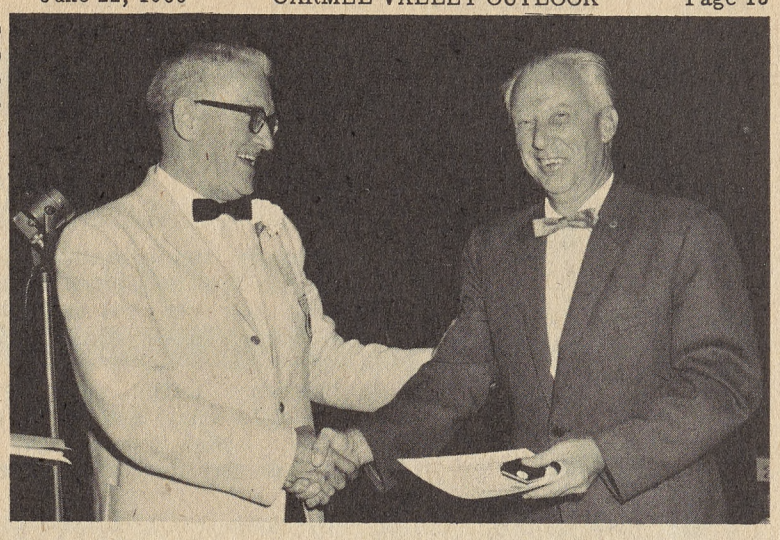

However, Saturday evening was perfect for cocktails on the Klusmann's La Rancheria patio followed by a buffet dinner for the Valley and Carmel friends who were invited to meet the Randalls. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Vladamir Kovalick, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Custer, Lt. Cmdr. and Mrs. David Eyres, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Morenz.

Rancho Del Monte Resort was the setting chosen by the German Short Hair Pointer Club of Central California for their annual installation dinner. Mrs. James Sands of Hitchcock Canyon was in charge of reservations and arrangements. Organized to assist lovers of the breed with pointers on field trials, shows, and how to improve the breed, the group is a branch of the American Kennel Club. The local group will host the National Specialty Dog Show to be held in August in conjunction with the Salinas Dog Show.

Twenty four guests attending Saturday nights dinner saw gifts presented to outgoing officers who were President Dean Baker, vice president, Chuck Ziert, and Secretary, Lila Baker. Installed for the coming year were president, Paul Brown, vice president, Norman Revell, and secretary, Mrs. James Sanda, and treasurer, Dell Gard.

The traditional potluck dinner for parents once again brought to a close another year for the Carmel Valley Cooperative Nursery School. Ham, turkey, roast beef, salads and desserts were enjoyed by members at the Ford Road home of Mrs. Patricia DeAmaral.

Among those attending were Rev. and Mrs. Don Johnson, Mmes, and Mssrs. John Anderson, Henry Blatnik, Stan Cloud, John Harber, Frank Bresk, Hans Doelman, David Erskine, Michele Joyet, Lt. and Mrs. Tom Henderson, Mrs. Caroline Fisher, Mmes. and Mssrs. Roy Kaminske, Richard Kern, Abdul Sotoodeh, Keith White, Calvin Garner, Paul Naton, Roger Winslow, Milton Klikovac, Ronald Nicholsen, and Robert Rasmussen.

JIM MILLER, JR.

Angeles. Jim, who is a sophomore, is majoring in English and took second place in the faculty poetry writing contest.

He was editor of the Chameleon, literary magazine at Carmel High School, served on the staff of the school paper, and was also a National Merit Scholar before attending Occidental. Jim is pursuing his interest in becoming a teacher at the college level and will return to Occidental as a junior in the fall.

He is home from school now and plans on working locally during the summer months.

The Rhyming Philosopher

Whatever the cause of our undeclared wars,
And problems which sorely upset us,
Like how can you gauge labor's minium wage
With pricing the market for lettuce?

There's people who strive so's to just stay alive,
While some want to fly up to Venus.
Too often we fight with the neighbors all night,
And find there's hard feelings between us.

By chance we have found that the earth still goes 'round,
The sun in the east always rises;
We still get involved in some problems unsolved,
And let ourselves in for surprises.

But there's nothing at all, be it mighty or small,
Compares with this new situation:
What a mother goes through to find something to do
For kinds out of school on vacation.

Youngsters set Valley fires

Children were seen leaving the scene of a grass fire and brush fire that burned approximately one acre on the Lachmond property, 30 Paso Hondo. Four Valley units of fire fighting equipment, 13 volunteer fireman, and one unit from the Tularcitos Guard Station were used to control the blaze. The alarm was received June 11 at 7:05 p.m.

Another fire caused by children took the Volunteer Valley Department to the Adobe Oaks Motel June 15, at 11:35 a.m. Small boys who had built a campfire against a fence and woodshed were reprimanded by both parents and firemen. There was no reported damage.

Scholastic opportunities for Lyceum students this summer

Three Art Workshops will be offered this summer by the Lyceum. Miss Andrea Spark will teach oil painting to a limited number of students. This class is for students from the fall workshops, who have demonstrated ability in either oil painting or sketching. Twelve sessions are scheduled, 2-4 p.m. Mondays and Thursdays, June 24 - August 4. The classes will be held at Monterey Peninsula College.

Seventh and eighth grade students will be offered "Adventures in New Media." This workshop will give students an introduction to sculpting, using various media (clay, wood, wire, etc.). Miss Andrea Spark, assisted by Mr. Duanne Matterson, will instruct the course. The class will be limited to 15 students, allowing individualized instruction. Sessions are scheduled 2-4 p.m., Tuesdays and Wednesdays, June 28 - August 3, for a total of 12 sessions, at Monterey Peninsula College.

Mary Balzar Buskirk, internationally known local weaver, will act as instructor for the art workshop in weaving. This workshop will be limited to eight tenth and eleventh grade students. Looms used will be through the courtesy of Seaside High School. All three workshops are made possible through a grant from the Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services.

A biology seminar will be offered to selected high school students who have completed chemistry. The seminar is scheduled for four sessions, 7:30-9:30 p.m., Tuesdays and Thursdays, July 26 - August 4. Dr. John Phillips, Jr., Director of the Hopkins Marine Station, Stanford University, will present the first two lectures. His first lecture is titled "A Comparison of the Energy Mechanisms Employed by Living Organisms and their Nutritional Requirements," and the second, "The Interrelation of the Metabolic Types of Organisms in the Turnover of Matter on the Land and in the Sea."

Dr. Richard Epel will conduct the final two classes. He will lecture on embryonic development and cell division.

21 instrumental students will be attending the Lyceum Music Day Camp at Asilomar, June 27 - July 14. This music program is made possible through a grant to the Lyceum from the Monterey Jazz Festival.

Information regarding the workshops, seminar or music camp may be obtained by phoning the Lyceum at 624-2403. Office hours are 12-4 p.m., Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

Carmel students win MPC awards

Three Carmel students were among the many graduating sophomores at Monterey Peninsula College who received scholarships and awards at commencement exercises.

Dr. James L. Rhodes, dean of instruction, announced the recipients and the donors.

Edward Hunt Jr. and Gary P. Silva both received Associated Students of MPC awards In addition Gary was also awarded a Bank of America Scholarship.

A music award from the Herbert Lindsley Memorial Fund was given to Athanus W. Lolov.

Richard Gardner of Carmel Valley, who is a first year student, was given the June Lockhart Lindsay scholarship for drama.

Sallie Holbrook of Carmel High School was one of the receipients of a scholarship given by the Monterey Peninsula parent Teachers Association Council.

Bob Robinson memorial praised by Tularcitos fifth graders

Editor:

During the year of 1965 there was a memorial started for the children of Tularcitos School from Bob Robinson, a plant biologist.

On May 27, 1966, this memorial was continued by quite a few organizations that were willing to contribute some kind of plant, also some single people did something for the memorial, these people are, Mr. Rex Pryer and Mr. Don Johnson said a prayer, Mr. Salih Mehdy made some redwood planters.

I think and I hope everyone else thinks that this memorial is very beautiful.

Sincerely yours,
Regina Howland

On Friday, May 27, 1966 twelve Valley organizations donated plants and trees to the Bob Robinson Memorial of Tularcitos School. Mr. Salih Mehdy of the Oleander Garden Shop made two redwood planters for a variety of plants. Some that were geraniums and lobelia. Four Christmas trees were given, two Monterey Pines and two Silver Spruce. The Bluebirds and Cup Scout Pack 76 donated some plants, two of which were a wild lilac bush and geraniums. The whole Arbor Day Celebration was much fun for all.

Sincerely yours,
Tim Cordrey

On May 27, there was an Arbor Day at Tularcitos School. Mrs. Hatten asked many clubs to donate money for the Bob Robinson Memorial which is also an outdoor classroom. Twelve Valley organizations contributed.

Four Christmas trees, a Monterey pine, and a silver spruce were given. Two redwood planters with geraniums and lobelia were also given.

I want to thank all the organizations who gave to make the outdoor classroom more beautiful.

Sincerely,
John Gardner

TULARCITOS FIFTH GRADERS were so impressed with the ceremonies and idea of Arbor Day that they sat down and wrote letters to the Outlook expressing their feelings. The youngsters came to the office and presented them to us a day or so before school was over. (Front row, left to right) Heather Golden with the letters, Robin Wilson, Anne Erskine, Sandy Harber, Outlook editor, Ginnie Drew, Terry Hendrix, Debbie Baker, Anne Papineau, and Regina Howland (seated). (Top row, left to right) Helena Bresk, David Baxter, Anne Pomeroy, Marie Irving, and Deanetta Espinosa.

On May 27, 1966 at Tularcitos School, people celebrated the Bob Robinson Memorial. People brought plants from all around. Twelve organizations were present.

They are Carmel Valley Women's Club, Lionettes, Kiwanis Club, Chamber of Commerce, Horsemen's Association, Sodality of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Catholic Church, Women's Auxiliary of St. Dunstan's Episcopal Church, Tularcitos Parents Club and Ladies Auxiliary of Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department.

If Bob Robinson were alive he would be very happy with all the flowers, plants and trees.

Among all these groups were the Bluebirds, Mrs. George Palmer's Camp Fire Girls, and Yakima Camp Fire Group.

Yours truly,
Mollie O'Neal

Last Friday, May 27, 1966 Tularcitos School had its second annual Arbor Day Celebration. Twelve organizations donated wild trees and flowers. Mr. Salih Mehdy of the Oleander Garden Shop built two redwood planters.

Reverend Don Johnson said a prayer to God.

The celebration honored the late Bob Robinson who loved the beauty of nature.

Sincerely,
Kathy Neill

Editor:

I am writing a poem to those who helped with the Bob Robinson Memorial.

The Bob Robinson Memorial is a beautiful place, all the trees move with such grace, If Bob Robinson were to see, oh how happy he would be. The trees fluttering in the wind, thanks to all who made it beautiful.

Editor:

As a student of Tularcitos School I use the Bob Robinson Memorial as a place to talk. I think celebrating Arbor Day was a good idea. I would like to thank a few people who helped to make it possible, Mrs. Mark Hattan, who went to all the clubs to get money, Mr. Salih Mehdy who made the redwood planters, and all of the people who donated plants and money to the memorial.

Very truly yours,
Jana Deck

MRA group tells Kiwanis of need for financial support

Carmel Valley Kiwanis Club had an impressive briefing on the Moral Rearmament movement at the club's meeting last week, Tuesday noon at Los Laureles Lodge.

Eight youthful members of the Monterey Peninsula, "Seagull '66" Moral Rearmament Singout group explained its aims and purposes.

The group pointed out need for financial support for the 60 from Monterey Peninsula hoping to attend a conference in Estes Park, Colo.

The Kiwanis Club directors met following the meeting and voted a contribution of $200 to the Singout group to help with the trip, which was to start the next day.

Doug Pendleton, musical director of the group and a collegian, explained that Moral Rearmament aims to remake the world into a better place to live. He said that, after a trip through Europe and the Near East last summer, he had returned discouraged with America which is being discredited everywhere he went. But he discovered Moral Rearmament, which answered his hope for improvement for life here.

A film was shown on the Moral Rearmament international convention
